

CLAIMS BRANCH BANKING HURTS "DUAL SYSTEM"

Charles F. Zimmerman, president of the First National bank of Huntingdon, stepped out of his role as secretary of the Pennsylvania Bankers Association Thursday night to urge country bankers to fight both the branch bank system in Pennsylvania and encroachments of the Federal Reserve Board in the operation of Pennsylvania chartered banks.

Speaking before the Adams County Bankers Association at a meeting in Fidler's restaurant, Biglerville, the veteran banker made clear that he was speaking for himself from the convictions he has gained in 48 years as a banker rather than as secretary of the state association.

Cites Bank Laws

"There is an issue drawn today in Pennsylvania between the country banks and the metropolitan banks over the question of branch banking," he declared. Outlining the history of the expansion of branch banking in Pennsylvania he recalled the law passed in 1935 and amended in 1937. Under the original law banks were not permitted to establish branches which would be in competition with home-owned banks. Under the amended act a test of the adequacy of local bank facilities was inserted in the law, permitting establishment of branch banks only where there was no adequate home-owned facilities for banking.

"Now the controller of currency has placed in disuse any meaning of the word adequate and has permitted establishment of branches of a Pittsburgh national bank in Bradock, Sewickley, Wilkinsburg, Butler, Charleroi and Kensington which violate the spirit and meaning of the banking act of 1937.

"Bill 766 now before the senate of Pennsylvania is an absolute corrective of this situation. The bill provides that no branch may be placed in any community where there is a bank in existence, and provides that no bank can establish branches beyond a 25 mile trading area.

He termed it a "shameful condition" that directors of locally owned banks should sell out for the sake of profit to larger banks, permitting their banks to become branches of the larger financial establishments. "Any banker who would take that position is unworthy of honor in his home county," Zimmerman declared. "Local banks are established to help their community, not to speculate in bank shares with the hope of high profits. All praise to Illinois and other states which have constitutional prohibitions against branch banking. Any town in Pennsylvania that needs banking facilities should have enough backbone to form its own locally-owned bank to serve its people."

"Plenty of bankers," he added, "are terrified that Pennsylvania will go the same way as California."

"Many people have generously contributed since our Dollar Club was inaugurated when we were nearly $600 short. Many persons have donated a second time and a number have given amounts larger than $1. We appreciate greatly their generous help and we sincerely hope there will be enough additional gifts to put Adams county in the 100 per cent column for this year's campaign. We now have $11,102. We need only $83."

The old-fashioned motif of their gowns was continued by muffs and bandeaux of sweet peas. Both wore pearls which were gifts of the bride.

Mrs. Esmer, mother of the bride, wore a floor length grey crepe dress, white orchid and a hat of violets. Mrs. Hanson, mother of the groom, was attired in a floor length gray chiffon over taffeta gown, a blue flowered hat, blue accessories and an orchid corsage.

LIONS SCORE HIT WITH MINSTREL SHOW THURSDAY

Another capacity house was in prospect tonight for the repeat performance of the second annual Gettysburg Lions Minstrel show at the Gettysburg high school auditorium.

The local Lions under the direction of Fred G. Pfeffer, veteran of many home talent productions, sent their reputation as top-notch entertainers to a new high level Thursday with their 2½-hour collection of jokes, musical specialties and dancing by the "Rottenettes," a chorus of Lions club "beauties."

With veterans of last year's minstrel showing the benefit of the extra experience and direction and with new talent added, the Lions in the opinion of the great part of their audience far excelled the 1948 performance.

Local Flavor To Jokes

From the time the curtains opened with the Lions club chorus singing "The Lions Go Roaring Along," until the black-faced chorus returned for another group of selections before the final curtain, the clubmen—with a few imported acts—kept their audience highly entertained.

Local flavors were added to jokes and the fun the performers obviously were having added to the success of the production.

Attorney Richard A. Brown was interloper for the first part of the show and Carl S. Menchey, D. E. Hess, Edward Nowicki and John Millard were the end men. Each of the end men did a solo. Menchey sang "Sweet Georgia Brown"; Hutchinson, "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep"; Hess, "Never Take a Walk with Mary"; Nowicki, "Can't You Hear Me Callin' Caroline"; and Millard nearly stopped the show with "Mammy."

Intermission Feature

There were quartet numbers by Menchey, George Larkin, David Blosser and John Kendeheart and a solo by Kendeheart.

During intermission a corps of black-faced boys and dusky maidens under the direction of S. F. Swope sold refreshments through the auditorium.

With President D. E. Hess serving as master of ceremonies, the second part of the show got off to a fast start with the appearance of the "Rottenettes," led by six-foot-five George Albee and with short and stocky David Forney last "girl" on the line. But George F. Eberhart came near stealing the show from the scantily clad chorines with his specialty dance act.

Surprise Act

Sterling Bollinger played several banjo selections and then David Blosser and three other holdovers from a radio entertainment team of a decade ago entertained with a group of harmonica numbers.

A surprise act announced as a citizenship award presentation turned out to be an entertaining dialect act by Millard and Nowicki that wound up with Millard at the piano and Nowicki handling a trumpet with considerable skill. The barber shop quartet and "fiddle and guitar" music by the Hobbs brothers were followed by the final numbers by the Lions chorus of 18 voices under the direction of Richard B. Shade.

Curtain time tonight is 8 o'clock.

Simmons Is Refused New Court Trial

Philadelphia, Pa., April 22 (AP)—The State Supreme Court today rejected an appeal for a new trial for Ray T. Simmons, convicted in the hammer slaying of an elderly Adams county farmer.

Simmons, 24, of Mechanicsburg, has been sentenced to death in the electric chair.

The court in a per curiam (by the whole) ruling, declined to hear a new argument on the appeal which it rejected last January 11. He had contended that "after discovered evidence" would sustain his claim of innocence.

In a two-part order the court refused a new trial on the basis of the "after discovered evidence" and also denied the petition for re-argument of the petition for a new trial.

Nine Presidents

In the 25 years there have been nine presidents. Mrs. Paul Kebel, Chambersburg street, was the first. Mrs. Shears said the class had cooperated in many activities of the church, from paying the salary of the minister to giving baskets of food and clothing to the needy, and remodeling the church.

EDGINGTON IS GIVEN PAROLE IN CHECK CASE

Homer H. Edgington was placed on parole this morning by the Adams county court with the completion of 60 days of a six months' sentence on charges of issuing bad checks and false pretense.

The parole, for one year, was granted in compliance with the court's recommendation made when the former Caledonia Manor cook was sentenced; that such a parole would be given if he made good the losses suffered by those who cashed the checks and paid expenses connected with his case.

David Oyler, from whom Edgington secured an automobile with a check for over $2,000 which "bounced," appeared in court to state that Edgington had made good costs, including bad checks given Swope's Atlantic Service station and Oyler, totalling $238.36. That amount also included $60.96 in gasoline and oil expended when Gettysburg Chief of Police Robert C. Harpster and Patrolman Kenneth Tawney went to Jamestown, N. D., to bring Edgington back for court here. The total sum also includes $127.40 expenses of the officers incident to the trip.

Car Recovered, Re-Sold

It was pointed out that the car originally taken by Edgington had been found in a nearby town and had later been sold at full cost so that the Oyler Motors suffered no loss from the pilfered vehicle. Edgington must repay his mother, who advanced the money to pay the local costs, the court's order stated. Edgington plans to leave this afternoon to return to the home of his mother at Twin Falls, Idaho, he told the court.

The desertion and non-support case brought by Viola Speelman, Gettysburg R. 5, against her husband, Belford Speelman, was dismissed at the request of Mrs. Speelman. She reported that she and her husband are now living together again and have settled their differences. Speelman was directed to pay the costs.

Testimony was taken from Policeman Frank Yercavage in an appeal by Filmore E. Maun, Lemasters, from a charge of speeding at 60 miles per hour. Following some discussion among attorneys, apparently on the question of whether the charge was placed before the correct justice, the case was continued to May 16, with the court finding Maun guilty subject to modification at the later hearing.

Two accounts were confirmed. The desertion and non-support hearing scheduled for Carl A. Wolf, York, was postponed due to absence of his counsel.

The desertion and non-support, case of Evelyn A. Messinger, Abbotstown, against Philip A. Messinger, was heard and the case continued until May 16 to give Messinger a chance to get a job and for the couple to work out their problems.

Arthur Beamer, Gettysburg; Alfred Sites, Chambersburg, and John Powell, Arendtsville, appeared before the court to explain how they are getting along with their payments. Sites was found guilty of contempt of court, with sentence suspended provided he pays $10 a week in the future, $5 on the regular order and $5 a week arrearages. Powell's case was continued until June 13. Beamer was found to be keeping up his payments as ordered. The court adjourned to meet Monday morning.

Father Of 10 Jailed For Relief Fraud

Philadelphia, April 22 (AP)—Walter Russell, 48-year old father of ten children, has been sentenced to three years in prison for accepting relief funds while earning as much as $50 weekly.

Russell pleaded innocent to fraud in Common Pleas court yesterday. He told Judge John A. Mayhinney nobody ever told him it was wrong to accept relief while working.

He said he was unemployed in April, 1944, when he went on relief. At that time he had seven children and received $39.50 monthly.

By October of last year, when the fraud was discovered, he was getting $228 a month relief, he said. Testimony showed he got a job as a roofer in October, 1944, and occasionally earned as much as $16 a day.

The American Legion Auxiliary today requested its members to meet at the Bender funeral home Saturday evening at 7 o'clock to view the body of Mrs. Frank B. Dear-dorff, a charter member of the organization.

OFFICERS ARE MYSTIFIED BY TENOR'S DEATH

Atlanta, April 22 (AP)—Police were trying to learn today "what happened, where, when, and why" in the strange slaying of opera singer John Garris.

"We're doing everything possible," said Chief of Detectives E. I. Hilderbrand, "but we have learned very little."

What looked like promising clues were fading out, 24 hours after the body of the 35-year-old Metropolitan Opera tenor was found in a dreary alley, a bullet wound was through the heart.

Hilderbrand listed these angles on which detectives were working: "Some" members of the Metropolitan Opera group were questioned in Memphis last night, where the performance went on as scheduled. Homicide Lieut. M. M. Coppenger said he was in Memphis, and names were not available.

Quiz Cab Drivers

Taxi drivers at the Terminal railroad station were questioned without results. This led to the theory that Garris may have been shot in a private automobile, and his body dumped in the alley. Detectives said it would have taken a powerful man, or probably two, to have lifted the body of the 175 pound singer.

A telephone call which Garris made from his hotel to the YMCA failed to produce anything definite. Eight members of the opera company were staying at the YMCA.

Hilderbrand said a radiogram to New York City police had determined that Garris was living at 362 West 47th street, with "L. Uhlfelder, said to be a tutor." Uhlfelder was believed on his way to Atlanta. Garris' body lay unclaimed in the morgue today.

Had Reserved Room

The detective chief said officers would like to question "a close male friend" of Garris, Hilderbrand declined to go into details, although he said Coppenger may bring additional information along this line when he returns.

Hilderbrand said he had been unable to locate a man rumored to have accompanied Garris from New York.

A telegram from Dallas (Tex.) hotel advised police that Garris had reserved a room with twin beds there for tonight. The opera has scheduled a performance in Dallas today.

CURIOUS FLOCK TO FARM HOME OF MRS. BRENNAN

Dover, Del., April 22 (AP)—Crowds of curious—many of them women—today flocked to the farm of Mrs. Inez Brennan, who police say has admitted plotting the deaths of two men she met through "lonely hearts" correspondence.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Brennan—44-year-old brunette—and one of her three sons, Robert, 15, awaited arraignment on murder charges.

Another son, Raymond, 23, has been charged with being an accessory after the fact of murder, while a third son, George, is being held as an accessory at San Antonio, Texas.

All Made Statements

George, an air force recruit serving at the Lackland Air Base near San Antonio, was taken in custody by Texas police at the request of Delaware state authorities.

According to Col. Herbert E. Barnes, Delaware state police commander, Mrs. Brennan, Robert and Raymond all have signed statements in which they told how Mrs. Brennan killed Hugo Schultz, 61, Epom, N. H., and Robert killed Wade N. Woodbridge, 67, Bedford, Va.

Barnes said the statements described how the two victims were buried in a pigsty on the Brennan farm, later were dug up, burned and the charred remains scattered on a dozer dump.

Robbery Was Motive

Solicitor Raymond Perkins and Sheriff George Colberth of Merrimack, N. H., told reporters yesterday that Robert Brennan told them Schultz was shot and killed after he had been fed 22 sleeping tablets and some rat poison.

Barnes said robbery apparently was the motive in the slayings.

A police guard was placed around the Brennan farm to keep curiosity seekers away from the pigsty and a barn where Barnes said Woodbridge was shot.

At San Antonio, George Brennan was quoted by Texas Ranger Zeno Smith as saying his mother was a "wonderful woman" and that he couldn't understand why she killed those two men.

per level of the Division Headquarters in Philadelphia. The purpose of the Salvation Army service unit is to provide immediate assistance to those in need. It is not the purpose of the Salvation Army in setting up its service units to duplicate any of the relief work which is now being done by other organizations. The type of assistance will be of a temporary nature, and not for an indefinite period. These cases usually are handled by city and state welfare departments. However, frequently a family is in need while waiting to receive such state assistance. During this period the service unit will attempt to provide such aid.

CLAIMS BRANCH

He also predicted that sufficient pressure will be brought to bear "from very influential quarters to defeat Senate bill 766, which would be the corrective of branch banking problems in Pennsylvania."

Threatens Dual System

The visiting banker also asserted that "Our dual banking system, of national and state banks, is at stake as well. The Federal Reserve board is seeking to compel the state banks which are not members of the Federal Reserve, to conform to its regulations governing bank reserves. If this can be achieved our dual system is destined to be broken down permanently."

He condemned the "creeping socialism existing in America today" and said "I care not what a managed economy says. It is destructive of American principals if you and your board of directors are deprived of the right to determine who is deserving of credit locally." He added that bankers in Adams county have already been told by national bank examiners to "cease lending on certain types of security."

"The authority of bank supervisory agencies is essentially that of determining the solvency of banks but we are today having our banking system governed by paternalistic federal agencies," he asserted.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, April 22 (AP)—"I was in England with two fighters," said Ray Arcel, "One was 21 years old and the other 27. But mentally the 27-year-old is 21 and the other is 27." Arcel, one of the canniest trainers in the business was referring to Tony Janiro and Tommy Yarosz and the main difference, he explained is that Yarosz is a guy who likes to fight and to train while Janiro just looks on boxing as a way of making money. "You never have to worry about a boy like Yarosz," Ray continued. "He's like the old timers who fought because they liked to fight and who never had to go to the gym because they were always fighting. The average fighter nowadays is too lazy to train the way he should. Tommy is going to be the fighter of the year—you wait and see. And to think that a year ago he was discouraged and ready to retire." Dumb Dan Morgan, who had preserved unaccustomed silence too long, interrupted at this point: "I know some others who are ready to retire—daily double players."

TODAY'S GUEST STAR

Ralph Warner, Bradenton, Fla., Herald: "Selecting baseball pennant winners has one big advantage over other sports prognostications. In football you can nominate the winning team Friday and be a bum Saturday night. It takes five months to reach the bum status on a season-long diamond pick."

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

Frank Stranahan tells Pinehurst folks that the North and South amateur will be his only amateur tournament, apart from the National title events, from now on. Automobile racing leaders will meet in Harrisburg, Pa., Sunday to discuss "the feasibility of establishing some sort of permanent memorial for our great and beloved Ted Horn." Larry Carpenter, Lehigh U. sophomore, pitches for the baseball team and plays on the varsity golf team. He'll have only four schedule conflicts between 19 ball games and 14 golf matches. One of Bobby Dodd's Georgia Tech football candidates, Billy Harkness, is the son of a man who coached Dodd at Tennessee. The Athletics say they'll refuse admission to Shibe Park to anyone who pays more than the established price for his ticket. There was a time when they'd cart a guy off to the nut factory if they found he'd done that.

MACK SELECTS A'S TO SNARE LEAGUE TITLE

Philadelphia, April 22 (AP)—Connie Mack says he's sure now his Philadelphia Athletics are going to win the American league pennant this season—they're too confident to lose.

Mack prior to the start of spring training picked the Cleveland Indians to repeat their 1948 victory.

The 86-year-old A's owner-manager retraced that prediction today. He's sure his A's will win—for the first time since 1931.

"This spring," Connie says, "I predicted Cleveland would win the pennant. But after talking to my players and realizing how confident they were, that they would win I have changed my mind."

"The players convinced me that they will win."

Mack thinks the Philadelphia Phillies have a good chance to cop the National league flag.

"They have a fine club," Mack says.

But back to the American league—the Indians and the Boston Red Sox.

Don't they rate?

No, says Connie.

Sox Lack Hurling

"The Red Sox have power, but no pitching and while I think they will be in the running I do not think they can win."

In their opening series with Boston the A's took two out of three.

Cleveland's pennant chances?

"If the Indians lose Bob Feller it certainly is going to make things a lot easier and simpler for us," Mack said.

And the New York Yankees?

Connie said the Yanks are a maybe and an if. That is, maybe they can win if Joe DiMaggio plays.

"With DiMaggio the Yanks can be contenders," Mack says, "without him they are just second division."

Mack insists his A's have the best defensive infield in baseball with Ferris Fain on first, Pete Suder at second, Eddie Joost at short and Hank Majeski at third.

Pitching? "My staff is one of the finest."

The outfield is fair, Mack admits, "but if Sam Chapman continues to play as he did Wednesday (four hits) I would have no worries."

Sport Shorts

St. Louis, April 22 (AP)—Catcher Bob Scheffing is not what you might call a holler guy, but the brawny receiver is the big noise of the Chicago Cubs at the moment.

Scheffing's two-run homer which gave the Cubs a 4-3 win over the Pittsburgh Pirates at Chicago yesterday was his third extra-base blow in the three-game old bruin campaign.

On Wednesday, Big Bob blasted a two-run double which was the pivotal clout in Chicago's 4-0 win over the Pirates. And on opening day Tuesday, Scheffing banged a ninth-inning opening two-bagger which almost spoiled old Rip Sewell's 1-0 triumph.

East Lansing, Mich., April 22 (AP)—Earl L. Edwards, Penn State's assistant football coach, has been named end coach and associate professor of physical education at Michigan State college.

GAME ON APRIL 30

Gettysburg high school's baseball team will play its postponed game with Westminster high on the high school field Saturday, April 30, at 2:30 o'clock it was announced today by Fred Haehtlen, athletic director.

Bigler Junior Hi Defeats Fairfield

The Biglerville junior high school baseball team won its opening game Thursday afternoon by defeating Fairfield junior high 9-1 on the latter's field.

Biglerville secured five hits, including a three-base blow by Heller, and combined them with five Fairfield errors to win handily. Fairfield gained but three hits.

Cluck and Coulson formed the winning battery while J. Carson and Sease worked for the losers.

Phone Installations Reach New Peak

Telephone installations reached a new high during the first three months of this year according to The United Telephone company of Pennsylvania's quarterly activities report, just released.

During the January, February, March period the United company reported a net gain of 2,073 telephones in service, representing an increase of five per cent.

John E. Caldwell, Gettysburg district manager for the telephone company, pointed out that the increase in telephones for three months this year was almost equal to the gain for the entire year 1941, when due to industrial expansion for war the company had a then record-breaking increase of 2,127 telephones. Although more telephones are being installed than ever before, the backlog of uncompleted orders remains little changed.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
BRIGHT EYE AND CLEAR BRAIN

The human machine is like every other machine in this respect — it must have the right fuel, get kindly care, and not be driven beyond its efficient capacity. Then there will be the bright eye and the clear brain which are the evidence of health and power.

Great care in the selection of the foods that we eat and sane exercise keep this machine of ours in the best of order. Said Dr. William Osler: "The clean tongue, the clear head, and the bright eye are birthrights of each day." The dyspeptic doesn't make a very good friend for any of us, nor is such a one a good friend to himself.

We cannot concentrate in a peaceful, relaxed manner when this digestive system of ours is upset and abnormal in functioning. Our meals should be taken regularly, eaten slowly and with relish, and while in a cheerful mood. Anger, worry, or unhappy discussion should never be allowed during one's meal. It is stimulating to eat with people who are cheerful and who have a happy outlook upon life. When away from home I hunt out an attractive place in which to eat and where the waiters, as well, are cheerful and considerate.

The measure of each one of our days is sparked by the first hour upon awakening. It is then that our plans are set and our outlook is arranged. What better plan than to get in touch with the Infinite Mind, with a prayer of thanksgiving for the rest of the night and for guidance during each hour of activity during the new day?

The bright eye and the clear brain are a reflection of our bodily condition and of our attitude of mind toward life and its pleasurable duties. Said old Walt Whitman: "Ah, the glory of the day's work, whether with hand or brain!"

Our individual success and happiness from day to day are reflected by the philosophy of life that we make our own. In the words of Robert Browning, "There's a world of capability for joy spread round about us, meant for us, inviting us." Grasp it all and there is sure to be evidenced the bright eye and the clear brain.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Miracle of Democracy."

THE HOME REMODELED
The other day their baby came and everything is changed.
The spare room for a tenant now has to be arranged.
The dresser drawers which empty were are stocked with garments small.
And they've the notion soon they'll put new paper on the wall.
With something more attractive, picturing bunnies pink and white.
Since the room a baby wakes in should be trimmed with colors bright.

The wife is now a mother and her husband is the dad.
They both have been promoted, and for that are truly glad.
Two mothers now are grandmas, and two fathers proudly boast.
That the title of a grandpa is the one they've wanted most.
There's a brother who's an uncle, and his little girl of three
Is telling of a cousin she is shortly going to see.

There's a clothes line in the garden which they didn't need before.
God let them have a baby, and it's near the kitchen door.
Now they stay at home the evenings when they used to go to shows,
And they plan to buy a play pen when the baby older grows.
There are bottles in the kitchen, and a lot of curious things,
Since so many are the changes that a new-born baby brings.

BRITISH SLOOP STILL TRAPPED BY COMMUNISTS

By JAMES FLOOD

Shanghai, April 22 (AP)—The British sloop Amethyst late today still was trapped by Communist guns which have blasted four British warships in the last three days.

A British naval spokesman said the sloop, which was heavily damaged Wednesday by artillery on the Yangtze River, had moved under Red small arms fire downstream some 10 miles.

All of the sloop's wounded and half of her crew of 148 reached Shanghai.

At her new anchorage the vessel was reported out of Communist-gun range but unable to proceed down the river because of threatening shore batteries on the 150-mile course to Shanghai. Earlier there had been some indication the sloop might try for a night escape.

(British navy headquarters at Singapore reported an RAF flying boat tried to make a landing near the Amethyst and was driven away by Red fire. This apparently was a second attempt. A flying boat earlier had landed near the Amethyst and put a doctor aboard.)

Three other British men-of-war who tried to go to the Amethyst's relief lay at Shanghai wharves, crippled by Communist shell fire. All four had fired back on their attackers.

The death toll of the attack by Communist artillery on the four British warships was believed to be 42. An estimated 84 were injured but the toll may be higher. Communist casualties were not known.

The U. S. naval hospitalship Repose arrived at Shanghai from the western fleet base at Tsingtao and its facilities were turned over to the British.

It was during attempts to reach the Amethyst that the 10,000-ton cruiser London, the destroyer Consort and the sloop Black Swan were hit by Communist artillery on the Yangtze's north bank.

Here is the best estimate now of the casualties: London, 15 dead, 23 wounded; Amethyst, 17 dead, 40 wounded; Consort, 10 dead, 16 wounded; Black Swan, five wounded.

Ignored White Flag
The county hospital in Shanghai said five of the Consort's injured were in serious condition. The Consort was the first to try to go to the Amethyst's aid when the sloop was hit and driven ashore on a voyage from Shanghai to Nanking.

Then the London, with its eight-inch guns, and the sloop Black Swan made the attempt. A British embassy source in Nanking gave this account of what happened then:

The London flew a white flag 16 feet square as it sailed cautiously up the Yangtze. The cruiser still was two miles from the Amethyst when Red artillery opened fire without warning.

After a second round of Red shells struck her, the London replied with all guns that could be brought to bear. The cruiser then retreated down the Yangtze with 12 large holes in her hull. The Black Swan also was hit by artillery fire but was not damaged extensively.

A British embassy representative was reported to be trying to get in touch with the Communists long enough to permit the Amethyst to be taken either to Nanking or Shanghai. Meanwhile, possibly two more British warships were heading for the Yangtze.

SPRING BOOST TO U.S. ECONOMY LONG OVERDUE

By NORMAN WALKER.

Washington, April 22 (AP) — The spring season's expected boost for the nation's economy is overdue.

That became clear today from a new batch of government reports. They showed fresh declines in non-farm employment, in factory workers' earnings and working hours, in business loans and in estimated farm receipts.

One government official, Commissioner Ewan Clague of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, said ordinarily these figures should have showed an uptrend this time of the year. He said maybe it's just delayed action, due in part to a late Easter.

Optimistic Note

However, another top official, Secretary of the Treasury Snyder, sounded an optimistic note to a New York audience last night. He said latest employment figures actually are higher than a year ago and purchasing power still is high.

"Right now," said Snyder, "in the pockets of the American people, we have $200,000,000,000 of liquid assets."

Snyder said the present economic picture lacks the elements that "brought on depression and depression crises in the past."

On the other hand, a third government expert, Louis H. Bean, said businessmen can cause a depression by curtailing investment for industrial expansion. He said recent surveys indicate they plan to reduce it in the next five years to 40 per cent of the 1948 level.

Factory Figures Down

Bean, economic adviser to Secretary of Agriculture Brannan, also spoke in New York.

Clague told a news conference the new lag in worker earnings and working hours means a cut in public purchasing power. He gave these figures for March:

Non-farm employment — Down 150,000 from February to 43,848,000. This is 750,000 below a year ago, when March showed a 300,000 increase over February. Non-farm employment represents about three-fourths of the nation's workers.

Factory earnings and working hours—Weekly earnings down about $1 to $53.37 from February and down $1.66 from December's $55.03 peak. Working hours reduced from 39.4 in February to 38.9 in March.

South Yangtze Valley Cities Fall Before Mounting Communist Onslaught

300,000 'REDS' SWARM ACROSS RIVER IN BOATS

By SEYMOUR TOPPING

Nanking, April 22 (AP) — South Yangtze valley ports, cities and towns fell like clay pigeons today before a mounting Red onslaught.

So weak was government opposition that wholesale desertions to the Communists were feared. Foreign military observers said a general troop withdrawal may have been ordered.

Nanking was fast emptying of officials. High level Chinese, wearing white helmets for the tropics and many swinging tennis rackets, bolted for departing planes.

Acting President Li Tsung-jen, Premier Ho Ying-chin and Gen. Pai Chung-hsi, commander of the central front, flew to Hangchow for an important meeting with retired President Chiang Kai-shek. Chiang may be asked to take over the government again.

Most important cities below the Yangtze in Red hands were Kiangyin, 85 miles east of here, Kweichih, 130 miles southwest, and dozens of lesser places between Wuhu, 60 miles southwest of here and Anking, 150 miles southwest.

From Kweichih the Communists could march straight to the sea at Hangchow, less than 200 miles away. Such a move would isolate Shanghai and Nanking to the north.

300,000 Cross River
There was no way of estimating the Communist strength across the river. The Red radio said 300,000 troops had swarmed over the river in small wooden boats between Wuhu and Anking alone. This figure probably was exaggerated.

Fires from Communist shells burned in Pukow, across the river from Nanking. The capital's populace was not overly excited. Most people had become resigned to the Reds' taking the capital.

The foreign office urged foreign embassies to follow it to Shanghai or Canton. U. S. Ambassador J. Leighton Stuart had made no plans to leave Nanking.

Americans Warned
With Communists to the east threatening to cut off all roads to Shanghai, the U. S. Embassy warned Americans to get out now.

(The state department in Washington reported approximately 200 Americans were attached to the embassy. Eighty-seven more U. S. citizens still were in the capital.)

Foreign military quarters said the Communists in a surprise river crossing had captured the government's naval base of Kiangyin. The base is about midway between Nanking and Shanghai.

From Kiangyin it is easy to cut the roads to Shanghai. But an even greater threat was boiling up about 80 miles to the southwest.

The Communists had shoved at least 15,000 veteran troops across to the south bank under heavy artillery fire.

Sunspots which become more frequent and less frequent in 11 year cycles started a declining cycle in 1947.

FOR CENTURIES THE WAVES IN LAKE ERIE HAVE BEEN WASHING THE SAND OF PRESQUE ISLE (NEAR ERIE) FROM THE WESTWARD END AND BUILDING IT UP ON THE EASTERN END, SO THE WHOLE 7½-MILE LONG PENINSULA HAS BEEN MOVING.

*Dr. O. E. Jennings, director of Carnegie Museum, writing of Presque Isle in the Garden Club Federation's booklet "Western Pennsylvania Highways and Byways" says there is probably no place in America where it is possible to see so completely the steps in building up vegetation. At the eastern end, where the sand has just been deposited, there are only the few plants that can exist in sand. As you move westward step by step and the soil is older and has accumulated more and more humus, more and more kinds of plants are seen, until at the other end, the soil is over 600 years old and the northern hardwood trees grow.

NEW DESIGN IN RAILROAD CARS SHOWN

New York, April 22 (AP) — A new train described as presenting "a challenge that possibly may revolutionize the entire passenger-carrying field" was demonstrated Thursday by the American Car and Foundry company, its builder.

Most startling concept in the train's design is that it is composed of 20-foot units, each supported by two wheels at the rear and coupled to the unit ahead somewhat like an automobile truck trailer.

Aside from this, the train is low-slung—passengers sit with their feet only 18 inches above the rails. The center of gravity on each unit is said to be 40 inches above the rails compared with 64 inches on the standard passenger car.

Light In Weight
And it is light in weight. Extensive use of aluminum, along with saving of materials in normal undercarriages, results in a weight estimated by ACF at less than one-fourth present railroad equipment.

Newsman rode the new train Wednesday on a demonstration run from Hoboken to Port Morris, N. J., over the tracks of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad.

The train is patterned on a design that has been tested in Spain. ACF expects to deliver sometime this summer two new trains of similar design that will be used in service between Madrid and the French border.

Diesel Power
Designated as the "ACF-Talgo" train, it takes its name from the Spanish tren (train) articulo (jointed) ligero (light) Giocoechea (the inventor) and Oriol (the man backing the train.)

The demonstration train consists of an 1,150-horsepower diesel-electric locomotive, a baggage unit, and five other units including one for equipment such as kitchenettes, washrooms and air conditioning, and another serving as an observation lounge. ACF said it was built to demonstrate feasibility of the Talgo design for American as well as foreign application.

INDEPENDENT STATES WITHIN BRITISH FAMILY CAUSE PROBLEM

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

When Eire last Monday declared herself the Independent Republic of Ireland, she dissociated herself from the British commonwealth of nations.

Membership in the commonwealth involves a dominion status which pays allegiance to the British throne. The constitution of the member nations all recognize the king of England as their king, although they are acknowledged to be autonomous. So Eire, by withdrawing that recognition, put herself outside the charmed circle.

Today the prime ministers of the seven British dominions are meeting in London, and the foremost question before them is this:

An Important Question

How can a nation belonging to the commonwealth become a republic and still retain its membership?

That's one of the most important questions the dominions ever have had to answer. It isn't that they expect to bring Ireland back into a fold which she found distasteful, but the mighty dominion of India has served notice that she also intends to become an independent sovereign republic. The idea of giving allegiance to the king is repugnant to many of India's leaders.

The loss of India to the commonwealth would be a major disaster. There we have a nation with a population of some 300,000,000. Already she is numbered among the eight leading industrial nations of the world, and her future is promising. In fact there are strong indications, as I see it, that she is heading for the leadership of Asia.

Most Powerful Figure

India's Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru is expected to play a major part in the London conference. Thus far there has been no sign that he desired to get outside the commonwealth, provided allegiance to the throne is eliminated. He is the most powerful figure in the Orient, and undoubtedly his views will carry great weight in the parley.

While the problem of finding a formula under which republics can remain in the commonwealth certainly isn't an easy one, many observers feel that it can be solved. A solution which is being considered as a possibility is summed up by the Manchester Guardian, one of Britain's leading newspapers:

"The easiest solution might be for each of the governments to proclaim by resolution that they were members of the commonwealth. It would be folly to let the commonwealth fall to pieces because of an insistence that the crown should be recognized by all partners."

Yank Pilot Dies As Thunderbolts Crash

Nuernberg, Germany, April 22 (AP)

—Two American F-47 Thunderbolt fighter planes crashed Thursday near Bamberg. The pilot of one plane was killed.

It was the first fatal accident during the U. S. Army maneuvers near the Czechoslovakian border.

Airforce officials said one of the planes lost its propeller during a low altitude strafing mission but crash-landed without injury to the pilot.

A second fighter, escorting the disabled craft downward, collided with a high tension wire and the pilot was killed. The accident came after American planes had flown almost 300 sorties, mostly in the role of "aggressor" aircraft.

WOULD REVAMP BLIND PENSIONS

Harrisburg, April 22 (AP) — Pennsylvania's blind pension system would be completely revamped under legislation before the Senate today.

The measure would assure needy blind persons at least $65 a month instead of the present $40 flat pension. In addition, it would make Pennsylvania eligible for an estimated $6,000,000 in federal funds in the next two years to finance the blind assistance program.

Pennsylvania now is the only state not receiving federal aid for his home Wednesday. Dr. Ettinger, who had suffered a cerebral hemorrhage Tuesday, had been associated with Muhlenberg college as a student and faculty member since 1873. He retired in 1937 with the titles as dean emeritus and professor emeritus of Latin.

DITCH PLAN FOR STATE COAL TAX

Harrisburg, April 22 (AP) — The administration ditched its plans Thursday for a two-cent a ton statewide coal tax.

The surprise move came after two weeks of intensive behind-the-scenes efforts by coal operators to scuttle the plan to fight mine subsidies and fires.

And administration spokesman, blind pensions on the grounds it does not meet standards established by the federal Social Security Administration.

The bill drafted as a result of a conference of legislators with federal officials in Washington on Tuesday would still permit blind persons potentially able to support themselves to receive $40 a month in pension.

At the same time they would be allowed to receive up to $1,800 a year in other income and to own property up to a value of $5,000. But to qualify for the $65 a month assistance a blind person would have to meet assistance requirements.

who declined quotation by name, said action is planned instead on a proposal to boost the bond requirements for both anthracite and bituminous strip mine operators.

Only a slim chance remains for imposition of a coal tax before the legislature adjourns, the spokesman explained. The loophole would appear if the lawmakers refuse to remove coal and other natural resources as a tax base under the 1947 local tax law. It allows municipalities and school districts to tax anything not already taxed by the state.

The coal tax bill was drafted and ready for introduction as recently as a week ago. It was in the hands of Rep. Adam T. Bower (R-Northumberland).

Church Conference Votes For Lobbyist

Seranton, Pa., April 22 (AP)—The

Wyoming annual conference of the Methodist church went on record Wednesday as favoring the naming of a full time legislative representative to work on behalf of the denomination in Washington.

Delegates to the conference adopted a report by its social service committee which recommended the appointment of such a representative.

The report, adopted in its entirety, also urged that all Methodists be active in politics, help to elect candidates of "A Christian character," and be willing to run for public office.

The report added that in such action, members of the Methodist church as well as other Protestants must "guard against both a state controlled church and a church controlled state."

Hombly's Dairy Farm, North Dartmouth, Mass.

"The night of Sept. 14, 1944, the hurricane blew down trees in our yard and other buildings were damaged, but your Tite-On Shingles stood the gaff and remained solid to the roof."

Letters like this prove that

Tite-Ons live up to their name.

They're specifically designed to resist the strongest gales. That's why a Tite-On roof is a profitable investment—it's trouble-free! Don't wait for howling

you get these patented features

only in the genuine Tite-On Shingle, made exclusively by the Ruberoid Co.

Concealed Interlocking keeps Tite-Ons in place when other shingles go flying. This patented feature makes your roof permanently windproof and weatherproof. ## UMW Will Demand Short Work Week

Pittsburgh, April 22 (AP)—The United Mine Workers union is going to try to shorten the work week of the coal miner.

UMW Vice President Thomas Kennedy said yesterday the union also will seek at coming contract negotiations:

1. A better distribution of mine labor so some diggers won't work five or six days a week while others work one or two days.

2. An "improvement" in the welfare fund. The coal industry now pays 20 cents for every ton of coal produced.

Kennedy made the statement to delegates of the international labor organization holding a two-week meeting here.

Forty seven thousand United States firms had group life insurance plans for employees by the end of 1947, compared with 25 firms in 1913.

BLOCK PLAN ON COMMISSIONS

Harrisburg, April 22 (AP)—Rep. William R. McMillen (R-Indiana) said Thursday opposition from the State Game Commission blocked a proposal to add lawmakers to four state commissions as observers.

"The commission has been spending the sportsmen's money sending game protectors up and down the state to oppose this legislation," McMillen told a reporter.

He made the comment after the Senate voted to send the House-passed measure to the Senate game committee for "further study," a polite way of saying the measure has been killed.

McMillen's bill would have added two senators and two members of the House to the game and fish commissions and also to the state council of education and the state historical and museum commission.

The Indiana legislator said it followed the pattern already adopted by the legislature for the state aeronautics commission, an idea, he added, "that has worked out fine."

"I haven't heard of any opposition from the fish commission or the other agencies," he continued. "In fact, the historical commission told us they would like it because it would give the commission a better chance to explain its program to the legislature."

The training of the Twelve was continued without interruption from the calling of the Twelve until the betrayal. While Jesus was training these men, He used the Divine method and never exactly defined or described what discipleship involved.

However, He presented the ideal through living realities and permitted them to draw their own conclusions. To "follow" is the initial step. Next is to have complete trust and faith in Christ.

Jesus encouraged his followers to develop their inner character. He said, "Come unto me, all ye that labor . . . take my yoke upon you, and learn of me." What every disciple must do is not only "to teach" but "to learn Christ." Gentleness, humility and love are primary requisites for discipleship—some of the precepts laid down in the Beatitudes. Many metaphors like "the salt of the earth," "a little flock" and "the branches of the Vine" were used by Jesus to point out certain features of discipleship. He said, "By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to another." Love is the badge of Christian discipleship.

A Rich Mans Mistakes The parable of the rich fool was part of a discourse by Jesus on "Beware of hypocrisy," and came in answer to a question put by one of his hearers, a man completely absorbed with a personal grievance. The request: "Master, speak to my brother, that he divide the inheritance with me." Jesus recognizing the evil of covetousness, perched His parable by saying, "Keep yourselves from covetousness, for a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of things which he possesseth."

By ordinary standards the rich man was a success. He had prospered; his fields of wheat and barley had yielded great harvests but he had no room to store them.

He must destroy his old barns and build new storehouses. His problem thus solved, his future secure, he would retire, eat, drink and be merry. But he made three grave mistakes; he mistook his body for his soul, time for eternity and that he was ruler of his own destiny, not God.

God then spoke to him, "Thou foolish one, this night is thy soul required of thee." All his accumulated wealth was now useless; he had not laid up "treasures in heaven" nor was he "rich toward God." This man had never shared even his surplus with others less fortunate; he had failed in stewardship; he had not practiced two of the necessary disciplines—self-denial and self-restraint.

Christ himself submitted voluntarily to disciplines to attain perfection. This experience was necessary for the fulfillment of his mission. Among the elements entering into this discipline were temptation, delay in carrying out his plan of salvation, sorrow, pain and suffering. Similar disciplines have been imposed on many of Jesus' faithful followers.

All disciples must practice self-denial, self-commitment and self-control. The latter, self-control, can be applied in much of our everyday life: to temperance in eating and drinking; in controlling anger, jealousy, greed, egotism.

"Whoever he be of you that renounceth not all that he hath, he cannot be my disciple." This demands self-sacrifice and self-renunciation—two of the severest disciplines. Jesus brought out the cost of discipleship in the two parables told at the chief Pharisees' table. Who would build a tower or lay the foundations for a great building without first sitting down and figuring the cost? What king would dare with 10,000 soldiers to encounter an enemy with 20,000 without first taking counsel or sending an ambassador to explain the conditions of discipleship.

THE DISCIPLINES OF DISCIPLESHIP

By Rev. Howard R. Gold, D.D. Margaret C. Gold

Luke 12:16-21; 14:27-33

Memory selection: Whosoever does not bear his own cross and come after me, cannot be my disciple.

—Luke 14:27

Multitudes continued to follow Jesus during his entire Perea ministry. He did not encourage them to join his small band of faithful followers for He felt it was too late to school them in discipleship. The demands of discipleship are hard; all earthly interests must be subordinated to the claims of Christ. Even Jesus' intimate companions were not fully aware of the dangers they must eventually meet—persecution and death. Jesus was constantly preparing them for these crucial tests. For them the evidence of the empty tomb was necessary. Like many slow-witted disciples of today "seeing is believing."

To illustrate and emphasize the requirements of discipleship Jesus told a number of parables. Three are recorded in this week's lesson: the foolish rich man who made three great mistakes; two on counting the cost of discipleship.

First Requirements

The training of the Twelve was continued without interruption from the calling of the Twelve until the betrayal. While Jesus was training these men, He used the Divine method and never exactly defined or described what discipleship involved.

However, He presented the ideal through living realities and permitted them to draw their own conclusions. To "follow" is the initial step. Next is to have complete trust and faith in Christ.

Jesus encouraged his followers to develop their inner character. He said, "Come unto me, all ye that labor . . . take my yoke upon you, and learn of me." What every disciple must do is not only "to teach" but "to learn Christ." Gentleness, humility and love are primary requisites for discipleship—some of the precepts laid down in the Beatitudes. ## LONG RANGE HOUSING BILL GETS SENATE OK

Washington, April 22 (AP)—The long range housing bill landed in the House today after Senate approval at a stormy session.

The bill authorizing a vast slum clearance program and construction of 810,000 public housing units during the next six years was passed by the Senate a few minutes before last midnight. The vote was 57 to 13.

The measure also provides for a $275,000,000 farm housing program and for a research program designed to spur home construction by cutting building costs.

Fate In Doubt

The fate of the bill in the House—which is in recess until Monday—is uncertain. Somewhat similar bills passed by the Senate last year and in 1946 died in the other branch of Congress.

House opposition in the past was directed against the public housing feature. Some influential house members still are contending that it would lead to socialization of the building industry.

That argument was raised during the five days of Senate debate on the bill, too, but it was overridden. On final passage, 33 Democrats joined 24 Republicans in voting for the bill. Against it were two Democrats and 11 Republicans.

Stop Amendments

Sponsors of the bill—11 Democrats and an equal number of Republicans—were able to bring about the defeat of practically all major moves to amend it. Among the amendments battled down was one by Senators Bricker (R-Ohio) and Cain (R-Wash.) which would have prohibited segregation on the basis of race, creed or color in the renting of public housing.

The proposal was beaten 49 to 31, with supporters of President Truman's civil rights program leading the fight against it. They called the amendment a move to kill the bill and said civil rights should be handled in separate legislation. Bricker, on the other hand, contended that it was an opportunity for Senators to demonstrate how they feel about civil rights.

Major Provisions

The major provisions of the housing bill are these:

1. The federal government would contribute up to $308,000,000 annually for up to 40 years to help finance 810,000 public housing units which would be built in the next six years.

2. A five-year slum clearance program, with two-thirds of the cost to be met by the federal government and the balance by local communities. The bill authorizes $1,000,000,000 in federal loans and $5,000,000 in grants.

3. A three-part $275,000,000 farm housing program: 33-year loans at not more than four per cent interest, to be available to owners of self-sustaining farms who are otherwise unable to finance adequate housing; a similar loan program, along with annual federal contributions for up to 10 years to owners whose farms were not at the time self-sustaining but could be made so; loans and grants would be available for minor improvement and repair of dwellings on farms which could not be made self-sustaining.

CITES WEAKNESS IN U.S. SCHOOLS

Philadelphia, April 22 (AP)—"The great weakness of tax-supported education in the United States lies in its failure to make provision for the teaching of religion."

That statement was made Thursday by the very Rev. Robert J. Slavin, O.P., president of Providence (R.I.) college before the National Catholic association.

In the field of religion the government claims to be neutral and insists that because of sectarian differences it must of necessity leave religious training to the home and the church, he said.

"However," he added, "it is impossible to be neutral in the matter of religion for underneath everything that we think or do lies some religious assumption."

"The very conviction that religion can be left out of the curriculum with impunity tacitly assumes that the things of God are not essential to human well-being as were the things of the world."

The educator declared that separation of church and state in the U.S. "has become a bugbear where by nothing spiritual can touch education, economics or government."

"If this persists," he continued, "then we can await attacks on religion similar to those we now witness behind the iron curtain—attacks on evangelical, Jewish and Catholic forms of religious life."

Offers Resolution On Blocher Death

The family of Howard G. Blocher, insurance agent, clubman and justice of the peace in Littlestown for 49 years, who died suddenly at his home, West King street, Littlestown, Saturday, has received from Francis Worley, Adams County's representative in General Assembly at Harrisburg, a copy of the resolution which he introduced in the House of Representatives on April 18.

The resolution states that Howard Blocher has the record of being a Justice of the Peace for 49 years, the longest period of continuous service for any justice of the peace in the Commonwealth. It further calls attention to his record as a Rotarian. He was a charter member of the Littlestown Rotary club and never missed a meeting of that organization. It also describes him as a political leader of his district and stated that he enjoyed the reputation of being a "just, honest and upright citizen and officer."

"The House of Representatives, therefore, expresses its sympathy to the survivors of Howard Blocher and to the Borough of Littlestown and to Adams county upon the loss of so fine a citizen and officer," the resolution concluded.

Annual Election Is Held By Class

The annual election of officers was held at the quarterly meeting of the Friendship Circle Sunday school class of St. Paul's Lutheran church held at the home of Mrs. Ivan Riley, Littlestown R. 1. Results of the election were: President, Mrs. Allen Eppley; vice president, Mrs. Ivan Riley; secretary, Mrs. Joseph Long; first assistant, Mrs. Paul Worley; second assistant, Mrs. Della Collins; and treasurer, Mrs. William J. Yingling.

A letter was read from Miss Vivian Brumgard, a member of the class who has spent some time at Phoenix, Ariz., on account of her health.

Entertainment consisted of an auction. Members brought a variety of items which were auctioned for the benefit of the class with Mrs. David S. Kammerer serving auctioneer.
